Continuing on our excellent relationship with Paynter Dixon, Civcorp was engaged to complete the civil and earthworks component of a new project they were awarded.

Civcorp completed all of the bulk earthworks, sewer and water main relocations, stormwater drainage, bio-retention basin construction and building pad works for the as part of the upgrading of the Jimbelunga Aged Care Facility located at Eagleby.

Like most of our projects, there were some complexities associated with the works such as doing the construction whilst the centre remained open and operating.

In addition the site was also located in the centre of a residential hub so the comfort of the neighbouring residents was of major concern particularly in relation to the starting up of machinery in the morning.

Civcorp overcame all of the challenges and proceeded to expedite the project works in conjunction with all the other respective trades ensuring that construction ran smoothly and seamlessly for our client.

The end result was a completed package of civil works ready for handover to other trades, along with a happy client.
